Dear Editor,

Going on the premise “we are what we read,” I think there is a big disconnect between what is viewed on-screen and violent behaviors.

We are not protecting our children by allowing pornography veiled in “unfiltered access” to adults.

What our minds ingest is spilled out on those around us, the family and our community. I do not want to partake in sex crimes by allowing my tax dollars to provide “adult entertainment” in our library. I have a responsibility as an Orland Park resident to protect my friends and neighbors from harm. The welfare of our community far outweighs any individual wants.

Thank you, Cathy Lebert and Julie Craig for your vote to keep our library free of pornography. Your courage is admirable.

It's a shame that people need to be congratulated for doing the sensible and right thing, but having two good people on this board is a good thing. They should have both walked out of the meeting and denied them quorum. Then they could not have held the illegal meeting in the first place.
