

1-28-2014

Government Censors Public: Orland Park Public Library Decides No More Public Comment on Porn

Megan Fox

Follow this and additional works at: https://dc.uwm.edu/orland\_park\_library\_challenge

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Fox, Megan, "Government Censors Public: Orland Park Public Library Decides No More Public Comment on Porn" (2014). Orland Park Public Library (Illinois), 2013. 47.
https://dc.uwm.edu/orland\_park\_library\_challenge/47

This Blog Post is brought to you for free and open access by UWM Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Orland Park Public Library (Illinois), 2013 by an authorized administrator of UWM Digital Commons. For more information, please contact open-access@uwm.edu.

- PJ Lifestyle - <http://pjmedia.com/lifestyle> -

Government Censors Public: Orland Park Public Library Decides No More Public Comment on Porn

Posted By Megan Fox On January 28, 2014 @ 4:00 pm In Activism,Library | 17 Comments

The most recent board meeting at the Orland Park Public Library was an illustration of tyrannical government in action. Currently, Orland Park Public Library allows unfiltered internet access which means access to violent porn, bestiality, the exploitation of sex trafficked women, and child pornography. They have no plans to do anything about it despite the Mayor of Orland Park joining the growing chorus for filters on all computers.

Instead, the library defends its inaction with claims of freedom of speech while public masturbators commit their fetishes in a library full of children. The public embarrassment and citizen outcry has not made one iota of difference to the hardcore leftists on the board. Their commitment to porn and the American Library Association's insistence that it is protected in a public space (even when paid for by unwilling taxpayers) is unwavering.

I have spoken at five board meetings along with other members of the community. Each time the topic was the same. "Put filters on the computers." Each five minute speech was tailored to a different angle pointing out different reasons why filters are necessary and constitutional. I always followed their rules and policies to the letter. But at the last meeting, even though I have followed all the rules they wrote, the board decided they had heard enough about the porn problem at their library. They arbitrarily decided we are no longer able to speak about anything relating to "computers" or "sexual misconduct" in their library. Keep in mind, these are the "free speech" people.

In the beginning of the video below, my colleague Kevin DuJan begins talking about the fact that the library is now charging money for non-residents to use unfiltered computers, thus profiting from pornography turning the library into a "sexually oriented business." He is stopped way before he gets to this revelation because his topic is not approved by the Board of Overlords. Strangely, they keep saying they have heard this before, but they haven't because they just instituted this policy of charging non-residents before the last board meeting so up until that day no patron was able to comment on it publicly. Pay close attention to how he switches his tactics and starts praising the library for random things. He is not interrupted. Every time he says something positive, no one interrupts him, but the minute he starts to criticize the board or the library he is stopped. Then it's my turn and President Nancy Healy tries to shut me up several times by interrupting, arguing and banging a gavel. After they keep me from making most of my comments they turn to an Orland Park resident named Joe who has never been to a board meeting and is also not allowed to express his disappointment with the terrible internet policy.

What do you call this other than CENSORSHIP?

What a joke these people are. They bluster that those of us who don't want porn in public libraries are trying to censor adults from hardcore porn or "information" in their words, but they have no problem actually stopping citizens and taxpayers from speaking to them! Watch. This is your government in action.

---

Article printed from PJ Lifestyle: <http://pjmedia.com/lifestyle>

URL to article: <http://pjmedia.com/lifestyle/2014/01/28/government-censors-public-orland-park-public-library-decides-no-more-public-comment-on-porn/>