To Ginny Maziarka, and other Zealots, Bigots and False Patriots

Thanks to Censorship-Free Libraries, we have these wonderful words from this year's Banned Book Week's poster, a manifesto against censorship:

To you zealots and bigots and false patriots who live in fear of discourse.
You screamers and banners and burners who would force books off shelves in your brand name of greater good.

You say you're afraid for children, innocents ripe for corruption by perversion or sorcery on the page.
But sticks and stones do break bones, and ignorance is no armor.
You do not speak for me, and will not deny my kids magic in favor of miracles.

You say you're afraid for America, the red, white and blue corroded by terrorists, socialists, the sexually confused. But we are a vast quilt of patchwork cultures and multi-gendered identities. You cannot speak for those whose ancestors braved different seas.

You say you're afraid for God, the living word eroded by Muhammed and Darwin and Magdalene.
But the omnipotent sculptor of heaven and earth designed intelligence.
Surely you dare not speak for the father, who opens his arms to all.

A word to the unwise.
Torch every book.
Char every page.
Burn every word to ash.
Ideas are incombustible.
And therein lies your real fear.
