Child Care Selected by Families in the Wisconsin Shares Child Care Subsidy Program

by John Pawasarat and Lois Quinn, Employment & Training Institute, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, November 2006

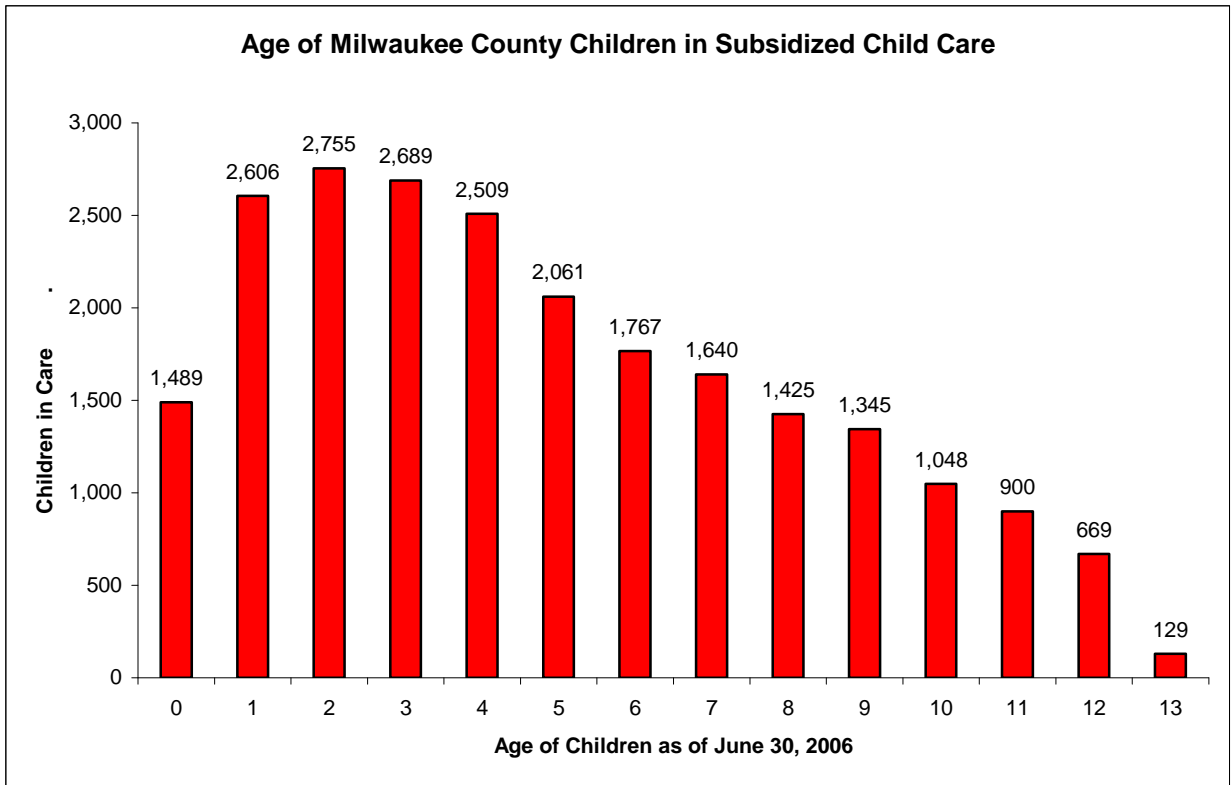

As part of its analysis for Milwaukee County, the UWM Employment and Training Institute examines the participation in the child care subsidy program (Wisconsin Shares) by type of care used, the age of the children in care, and residence of the family. In Milwaukee County, families may choose among six types of child care:

1. Licensed group care – centers licensed by the state to serve 9 or more children. The Wisconsin Department of Health and Family Services has licensed 489 group centers in Milwaukee County.
2. Licensed family care – family centers licensed by the state to serve 4-8 children. The Department of Health and Family Services has licensed 1,041 family centers.
3. Regularly certified family care – providers certified by Milwaukee County to care for children in their home. Providers are regularly certified if the caregiver has completed a prescribed 15-hour training program.
4. Provisionally certified family care – providers certified by Milwaukee County to care for children. Providers are provisionally certified if the caregiver has not completed the 15-hour training.
5. School-age programs operated by Milwaukee Public Schools.
6. Certified school age program operated by the Boys and Girls Clubs.

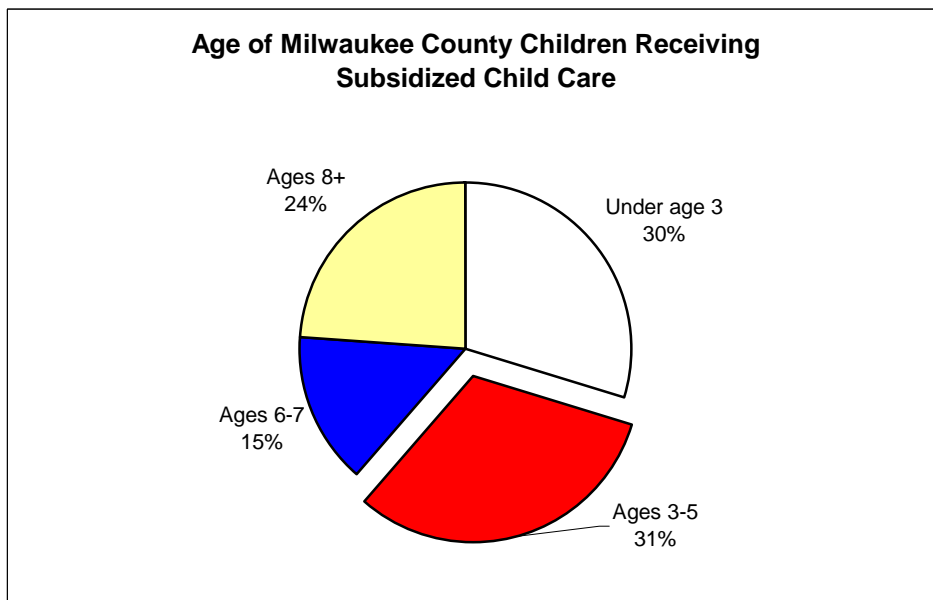

Participation in the child care subsidy program was examined for the week of April 23, 2006, as a typical week during the school year when no school holidays were scheduled. That week a total of 23,033 Milwaukee County children were receiving subsidized child care.

Most of the Milwaukee County children in subsidized care are under age 6, with the highest numbers of children ages 1, 2, 3 and 4.

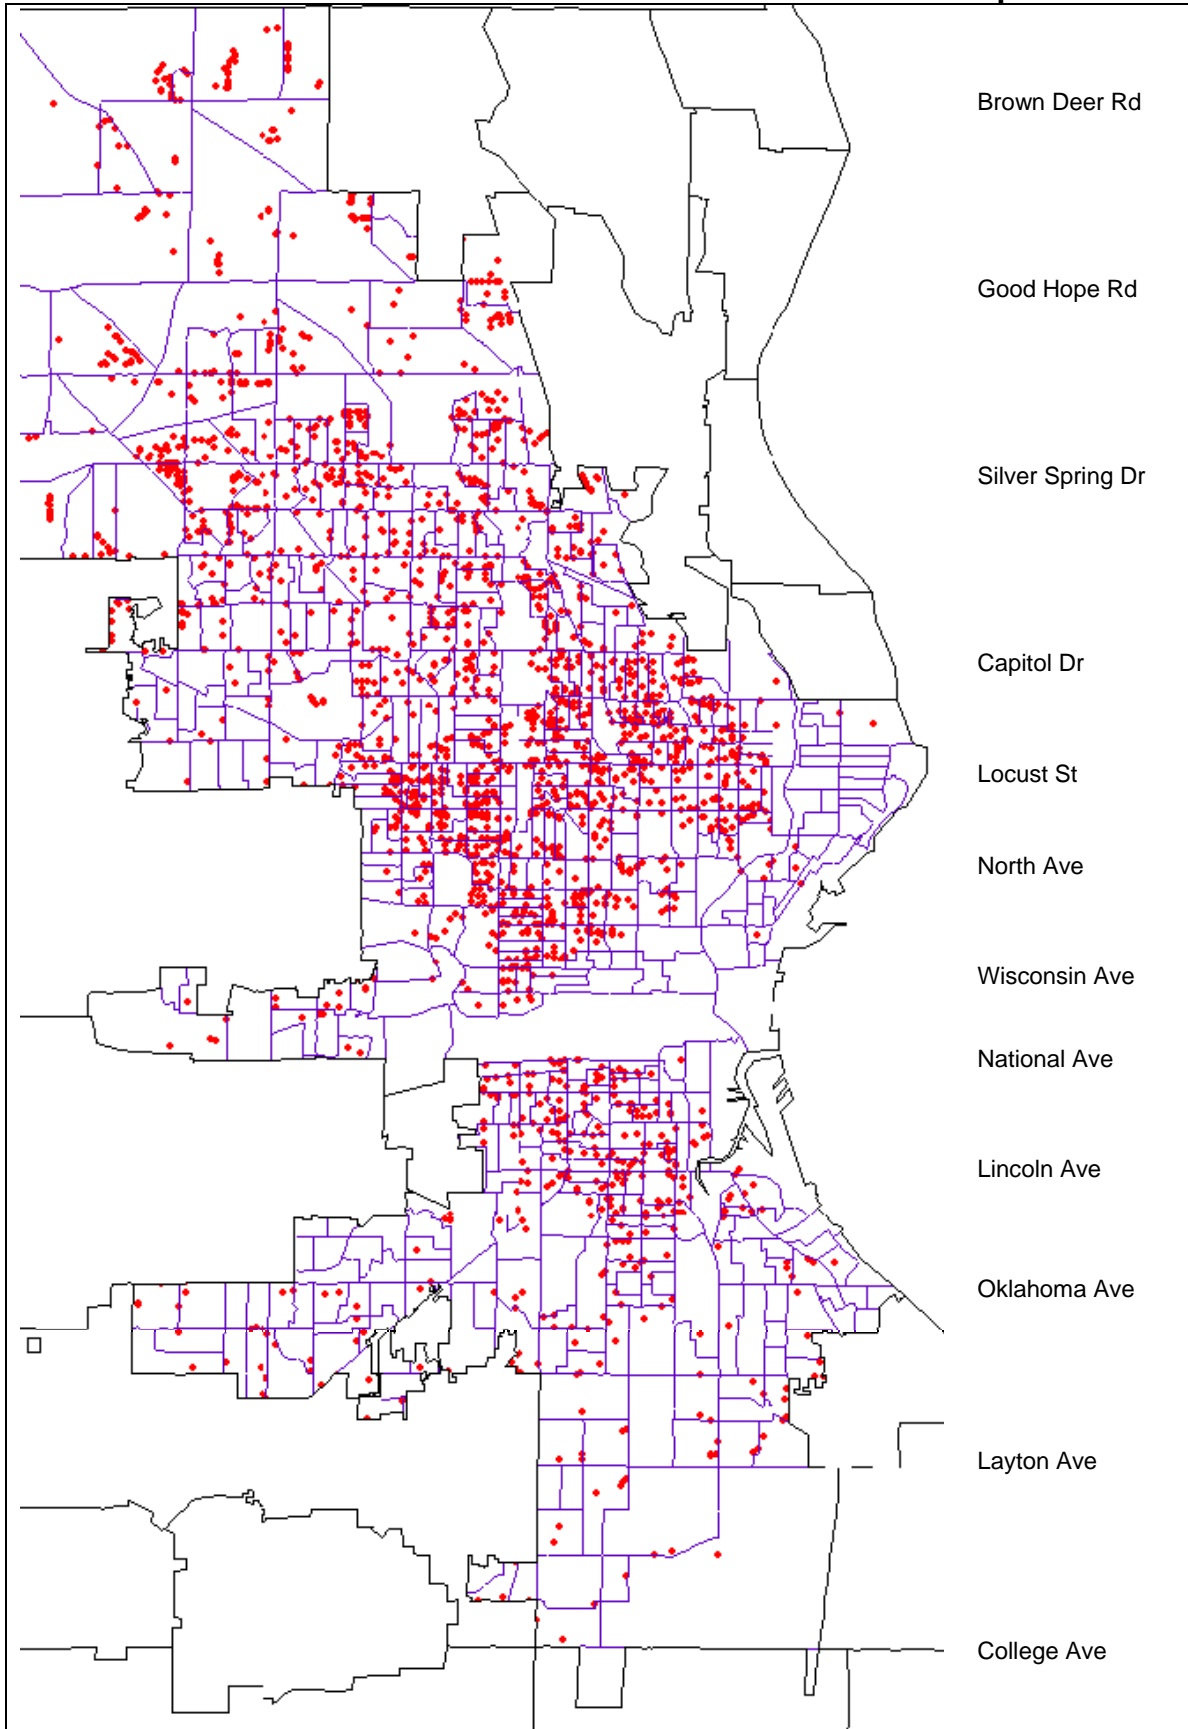

Children ages 3 through 5 comprise almost a third (31%) of children in subsidized child care.

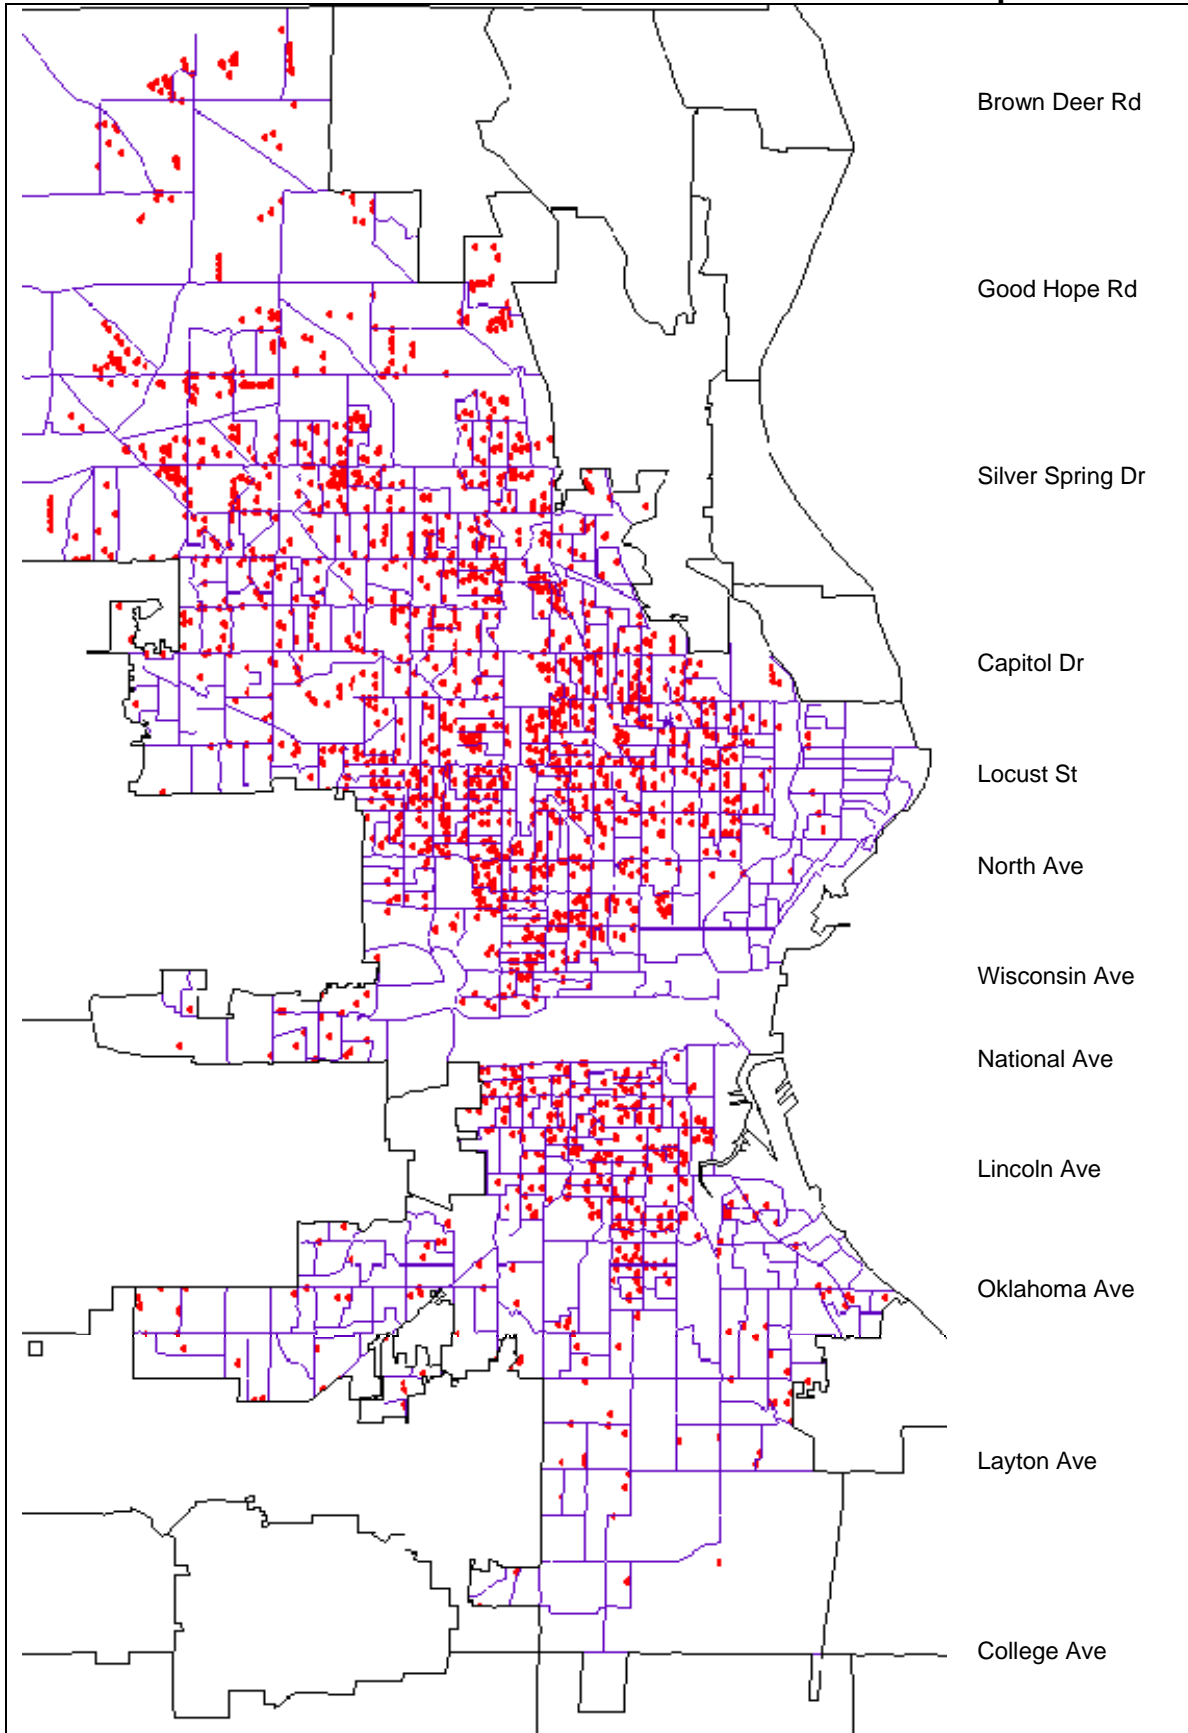

The following maps show the residence of 3, 4 and 5 year-old City of Milwaukee children in subsidized child care. Dots are distributed randomly within census block groups.

4-Year Old Milwaukee Children in Subsidized Child Care in April 2006

5-Year Old Milwaukee Children in Subsidized Child Care in April 2006

A majority of pre-school children in subsidized care are in licensed group centers. Most school age children in before and after school subsidized care have younger siblings in child care as well.
