

7-14-2009

Speaking of Talking Trash...

Concerned West Bend Citizen

Follow this and additional works at: http://dc.uwm.edu/west_bend_library_challenge

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Recommended Citation

Concerned West Bend Citizen, "Speaking of Talking Trash..." (2009). West Bend Community Memorial Library (Wisconsin), 2009. Paper 392.

http://dc.uwm.edu/west_bend_library_challenge/392

This Blog Post is brought to you for free and open access by UWM Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in West Bend Community Memorial Library (Wisconsin), 2009 by an authorized administrator of UWM Digital Commons. For more information, please contact kristinw@uwm.edu.

Tuesday, July 14, 2009

Speaking of Talking Trash...

Ginny Maziarka is at it again.

Remember her various personal attacks and ad hominems? She struck gold again today.

Lately, we've witnessed a variety of rants about the fact that local librarians and related personnel have the audacity to attend the national ALA meeting to discuss the book challenges that have rocked the 'brary.

After reading today's newspaper article about an ALA panel discussion about the local controversy, Ginny posted an implication that "trash talking" occurred at the event in a manner disparaging of West Bend. Based on the article, the only criticisms levied appeared to be against the media and the blogs for their skewed/incorrect coverage of the controversy. While the librarians noted their frustration over the entire episode, there was no "trash talking" about specific people, the community, or anyone.

Maybe Ginny has a different concept of what "trash talking" is, but it seems the opening line of her very post provides us the best example. While referring to Maria Hanrahan's counter-movement, the West Bend Parents For Free Speech, Ginny makes this disparaging remark: In a prior blog comment, Maria Hanrahan (WBPFSS), West Bend Parents for Free Sex, um, I mean Free Speech (oops, sorry 'bout that) stated about the ALA Conference Talk about trashy...